Generations Connected

BEFORE YOU LOOK

1. How do you envision different generations being connected?
2. What kinds of relationships or interactions do you think might be depicted in the image?
3. What impact do you think the connections between generations have on society?

This image portrays a serene evening in a family's living room where three generations are engaging with modern digital technology. A child, immersed in a virtual reality experience, contrasts with a young adult casually browsing on a tablet and an elderly person enjoying content on a smart TV.
