Provocation 37 of 50

Horizons of Hope

BEFORE YOU LOOK

1. What images or scenes do you envision when you think about new horizons filled with hope?
2. How might the image capture the feelings of optimism and potential for the future?
3. What personal or collective aspirations do you associate with the idea of hopeful horizons?

This image captures a breathtaking sunset at a wind farm, where multiple turbines spin steadily, a family nearby watching in awe. The scene symbolizes the community's growing commitment to renewable energy sources, with the wind farm serving as a powerful representation of sustainable progress.